

ConcenBingoTration

Two audience members have been preselected to play this game against each other. Jimmy Fallon is acting as the emcee. It's based on the old TV show "Concentration" where contestants had to match up 2 like items to turn a card over. In this case, the audience is split into 2 groups of 5 x 5, still in their seats. They each have numbered cards, 1 through 25. The contestants call out numbers and the audience turns over their card when it's called. Contestants try to match the picture that's on the other side of the card (that night's guests, Fallon, Steve Higgins, band members, etc.) If they match, they keep going. The goal is to get a bingo of 5 in a row in any direction.
